Pentegra Recruits a 403b Consultant

The White Plains, New York-based recordkeeper, Pentegra Retirement Services has officially hired Maegen 'Meg' Chaudry as a 403(b) consultant for Pentegra's non-ERISA 403(b) clients and advisors on May 16.

Based in Texas, Chaudry will be responsible for managing relationships between advisors and participants at Pentegra, (mostly major universities in Texas and k-12 schools,) working alongside Pete D'Angio, and Regina Montrony. Chaudry reports to Tom Leder, AVP, consulting services.

Due to the varying locations of Chaudry's clientele, she tells 401kWire "I drive up to six hours to visit these universities, and wherever they are located, we're looking for advisors in the area to travel alongside us."

Chaudry succeeds another Pentegra employee who left the company.

Prior to accepting this role, Chaudry worked at Legg Mason, where she drove sales designed for Edward Jones over 13 territories.

"I left Legg Mason to take this role at Pentegra," says Chaudry. "It was an opportunity I couldn't pass up."

A spokesperson from Legg Mason was not immediately available for comment.

Chuck Coldwell, Pentegra's vice president, national director, consulting and BOLI services states, "We are excited to have Meg join our team. Her combination of industry experience, relationship management skills and ability to cultivate advisor relationships will benefit all of our business partners."

In addition to working at Legg, Chaudry was also employed at American Funds, and began her career at Edward Jones. She received a bachelor's in business marketing from Texas A&M University at its Mays Business School.

Looking ahead, Chaudry says, "We're looking to expand our advisor relationships."
