Rausser Shows Millennials a Path

White Plains, New York-based Pentegra (spearheaded by senior VP of client services Rich Rausser) has introduced a report specifically designed to help bring retirement saving strategies to millennials.

The report, titled the Pentegra Millennial SmartPath, is a 30-page document in the company's SmartPath series (which includes other guides like the Pentegra Advisor SmartPath, the Pentegra Participant SmartPath, and the Pentegra Fiduciary SmartPath). This one, however, is focused on general financial wellness practices for young adults. It includes debt repayment strategies, recommendations for saving early, and an overview of investment options and dollar-cost averaging. It also covers common mistakes such as selling in a panic and cashing out early.

"As the first true 'post-pension' generation, millennials must save enough for retirement largely on their own. This is difficult for this group who are saddled with record levels of student loans," Rausser states. "We wanted to create this tool exclusively for them, to ... help millennials master the financial strategies they should look to adopt right now."
