ARLINGTON, Va.–NAFCU Services has announced its 2019 Innovation Award finalists.

According to NAFCU Services, these awards recognize groundbreaking solutions that help credit unions compete and thrive in a complex marketplace, with an independent, third-party panel of judges selecting the winners.

Among the finalists: Insuritas, LendKey, MasterCard, Open Lending, Pentegra, Q2 and Wolters Kluwer.

The 2019 award winners will be announced at the NAFCU Annual Conference and Solutions Expo this June in New Orleans, Louisiana.

“Every year, the applications for our Innovation Awards become even more competitive. The judges will have a hard time choosing just three winners,” says NSC President Randy Salser. “The range of game-changing solutions for credit unions is impressive. Congratulations to these leading companies for their groundbreaking work!”

The 2019 judges are: Kathy Chicas, Chief Operating Officer at Farmers Insurance Federal Credit Union; Mike Lawson, Creator and Host of CUBroadcast; Jim Pack, SVP and Chief Member Service Officer at Coastal Federal Credit Union; Randy Smith, Co-founder and Publisher of CUInsight.com; and Sharon Stahr, Chief Communications Officer at Cobalt Credit Union.
